Should children use social network sites?

YES

NO

Point 1

Well it is a good way to learn about Online Safety. But some parents might not want their child to have social media however some parents might.

You need to be careful on what your posting and who is viewing it. On most social media platforms you can decide to make your account private so only people that you accept can see your feed.

Point 2

People can find funny videos and clips and also post blogs and stuff about their day!

Some children might use it irresponsibly so parents should always keep check of the child's phone/tablet.

Point 3

We can make a private account so only people that we accept into your account can see your content.

Some scary people can be on social media and can pretend they are someone thy're not. So always be aware of who you are adding.
